19. Prospects for the current financial year

Malaysia's economic growth will be supported by continued expansion in domestic demand. The economy would benefit from improved labour market conditions, the realization of multi-year projects and higher inbound tourism activity. While external demand is expected to moderate, this will be partly cushioned by Malaysia's diversified export base.

The impact of economic growth is being felt in Kedah. Since 2020, Kedah has shown steady growth in investment. The northern state of Kedah has witnessed commendable investment of more than RM20 billion approved investments as at second quarter of 2022 that will be materialized starting in 2023 onwards. The state is keen to facilitate and attract more local and overseas investments based on the Kedah Development Plan 2035.

All investment-related agencies are working as a team with the same purpose and objective, to facilitate and attract more investments into the state. The Group, as a Kedah State Government Link Company, strives to ensure the success of the Kedah Development Plan. The current order book, such as the Pelubang Water Treatment Plant project, is currently in progress. This project is a catalyst for the development and expansion of the new growth areas in Northern Kedah with projects such as the Kedah Rubber City, Delapan Special Border Economic Zone (Delapan SBEZ) in Bukit Kayu Hitam under Northern Gateway Sdn Bhd, Kedah Science and Technology Park and Bukit Kayu Hitam Halal Hub.

The development and expansion of the new growth areas in Northern Kedah will help to boost the existing township's value and unlock the remaining landbanks' potential value. The current joint venture development of the affordable housing project in Bandar Amanjaya, Sungai Petani is on track, while the development of the existing township in Bandar Darulaman continued to contribute positively to the Group.

Moving forward, the Group intends to boost its presence in Kedah and continue to support the state agenda. Internally, the Group continues its operational improvement for a sustainable future. The Group expects a satisfactory performance for the remainder of the current year.
